French Farce in Preparation

Preparation of "The Miser" for presentation of the first act during Hartnell College Week, and presentation in entirety March 12, 13, and 14 is the present task of the Hartnell Community Theatre, Mr. Harold Ulrici, director of the French comedy, reports that it is fully cast and indicates that the group is doing a good job of filling the roles created by Moliere.

The play is a farcical story of an eccentric middle-aged character who has become warped on the subject of money, and who fears that even his own family is after the cash he has hidden around the house. The plot gets complicated when it develops that the rich man's son is in love with the girl to whom his father is secretly engaged, but things work out to a happy ending and the miser is made to see the error of his ways.

Following persons were chosen for the cast at the tryouts on January 6: Paul Miller as Harpagon, Mary Ann Baldwin as Elsie, Alan Lowell as Cleante, Grover Lee as

Lounge "Mess" Acted Upon By ASB Commission

Closing of the Hartnell College student lounge Wednesday of this week is a protest on the part of the student commission against continued misuse, announced Randy Blair, lounge committee chairman, yesterday. The lounge will be re-opened next Monday, in hope that students will have more respect for the well-publicized rules.

Blair reports that for the second time in two weeks, he and a group of students personally cleaned the lounge after school hours, only to find it a "complete mess" by the following afternoon. If no improvement is shown next week, the lounge will be closed for a full

To elaborate on the resolutions posted on the door of the lounge, Blair listed the following offenses as the most consistently repeated: (1) misuse of the furniture, including everything from dancing on it to manhandling it; (2) litter on the floors, including everything imaginable from cigarette butts to coke bottles; and (3) eating, which is prohibited in the lounge in any

A big problem confronting the college lately is the illegal parking of cars in the circle in front of the Men's Gym. Even though there are signs prohibit-ing parking in the circle, there are still a few violators each

In case of a fire it would be impossible for the fire department to come in, stated a Hartnell official regarding this problem. The circle is also used for truck loading and unloading as well as for bus parking when transporting gym classes to the Municipal pool.
Students, therefore, are requested to park their cars in the school parking lots, provided for that purpose.

Bids - Only $1.50 - To Be at Door

The long awaited Hartnell Winter Ball will be held tomorrow night, February 7. An enormous crowd is expected to attend the semiformal presented by the Hartnell College Social Activities Committee. The dance, which was put off because of the Junior Rose Bowl game, promises to be worth the wait.

Linda Lawrence ls On ASB Council

Linda Lawrence was named to the student commission Monday of this week, following the resignation of Dick Gularte. Gularte found it necessary to drop school for a semester, because of his fa-ther's failing health, and, therefore, had to resign his post as commissioner of social activities. He fulfilled all requirements for his A.A. degree at the conclusion of the fall semester.

The new commissioner of social activities is a prominently active freshman student, and steps into the task of completing work on the Winter Ball. Miss Lawrence, a Hartnell pom-pom girl, has worked on previous dances this year, and will be assisted by the graduated Gularte until the Winter Ball is concluded.

In Salinas high school she served as chairman of the decorations committee for the 1951 junior-senior prom. At Hartnell she is preparing for a career in either textiles or food testing.

To keep things close to home, the committee plans to decorate the walls of the Knights of Pythias Hall according to a winter wonderland theme. To add color, a scheme of green and white will prevail; and the dreamy band of Wayne Walker will provide the musical background.

The music will begin as the hand of the clock points to 9:30, and the dance will continue until 1:30 a.m. The bids cost the small price of $1.50, and to save further expenses, there will be no corsages. Ken Van Cleave will be M.C., and Radio Station KDON will prepare to tape record a half hour of Wayne Wal-ker's music. This recording will be presented over KDON sometime

Dick Gularte, who graduated last semester, is responsible for the early planning and the theme of the Winter Ball. Dick, commissioner of social activities, left the remaining plans for the dance in the hands of his social activities committee, Members of the committee are Ken Van Cleave, Darlene Rust, Linda Lawrence, Claudia Day, Loava Mead, Esther Williams, Doris Simon, Helen Allen, Nancy Carr, Emil Yappert, Dick Eppley, and Ann Young. Credit, of course, also goes to the students who are help ing to sell tickets.

mayor of Salinas for the week of March 2-7, announced Ken Van Cleave, ASB president, this week. This will be the second annual week set aside for Hartnell to present its outstanding activities, advantages, and departments to the

The student commission has been organizing elaborate plans for the first week of March, and promises to stage at least one major activity each and every day and night of the week. Major purpose of the project this year is to aid the Interclub Council in its endeavor to show the public and the board how urgently Hartnell needs a student union.

At present, Monday, March 2, is the only day of the week for which plans are not definite. However, plans for that night are materializing into an unusual sports night, with Hartnell women's basketball team playing the Monterey women. The preliminary to this will be a volleyball game between the faculty and the student commission.

Potential Draftees Need Good Record In 15

While current draft regulations remain about the same as heretofore for Hartnell male students, President Lemos, when interviewed yesterday, pointed out the following "musts" for college students. The undergraduate shall be re-attendance record.

Last week, the draft boards, covering this area, were advised of all names of those students who dropped or transferred; and were apprised of other causes leading to the termination of studies by Hartnell students for last semester. This week, draft boards will be furnished form 242, certifying names of all men now taking a full load.

President Lemos, especially stresses the necessity of each and every man to be sure the front office has complete information regarding the individual's own draft board. Furthermore, it would be smart strategy to write, or better yet, for the individual concerned to pay a visit to his draft board and see that his complete status is fully accorded him.

Money Received Hartnell College was recently the recipient of a check for $1000 from the Pasadena Junior Chamber of Commerce. The check was an advance of the college's share of the proceeds from the Junior Rose Bowl game in which Hartnell tied Bacone, 20-20, on December 13,

The advance check was based only on estimates of the proceeds, and the total amount to be received will not be known until the final audit of the proceeds is completed at a later date. The rest of the money is to be received later, and Hartnell will get a percentage of the net profits of the game, not a percentage of the total proceeds, as has been rumored.

THINKING IT By KEN VAN CLEAVE

This column, written by the president of the Associated Students of Hartnell, will appear as a regular feature in the Panther Sentinel during the Spring semester. The Panther Sentinel feels that through this column the exact opinions and ideas of the student commis sion concerning important issues on the campus may be derived. If a student wishes to gain a deeper insight of these problems, is reminded that all commission meetings are open to the public.

The closing of the student lounge earlier this week was a result of action recommended by the Stu-Commission. This recommendation was made because of the general misuse of the lounge and its facilities. The Commission felt that the lounge was a disgrace to the school and its students

The student body in general and the users of the student lounge in particular had been previously warned of the consequences of their actions. However, this did little good in halting the damage to the lounge facilities. This may have been due to the lack of knowledge of the rules governing the use of the student lounge.

For the information of students who wish to use these facilities, the rules are as follows:

1. NO EATING IS PERMITTED IN THE STUDENT LOUNGE. This includes the drinking of coke, coffee, and milkshakes, and the eating of ice cream.

2. ALL DEBRIS MUST BE PUT IN THE WASTE BASKETS PRO-VIDED.

3. ALL CIGARETTES MUST

Bookstore Still Buys Used Books

Even though the deadline for the regular selling of used text books back to the bookstore has passed, manager Darwin Peavy states that the store will still buy the students' books "if and when the student can find me not busy (sic)."

According to Mr. Peavy, the fairest price of the book is a refund of half of the original price. To those students who lament about the loss they take on selling their books, they can take solace in the fact that most larger colleges refund only one third of the cost.

It is undoubtedly of interest, to students on the campus to know that the profits of the Hartnell bookstore go directly to the associ-

ASB Cards Sold On Time Plan

"Financially embarrassed" Hartnell students may now purchase their student body cards on a time payment plan.

Those who can't afford the $6.50 semester fee all at one time may obtain the benefits of student body membership by purchasing their cards with $1.50 down and

$1.00 per week for five weeks. Students who follow this plan are required to fill out two forms listing the dates on which pay ments are due; one copy is kept by the student and the other is kept the office. In case a student falls behind in the payments the card is retracted by the student body until payments are brought up to date.

BE PUT OUT IN THE ASH TRAYS PROVIDED.

These rules are simple and few; they boil down to this little axiom: Treat the lounge in the same manner you would treat your own home and property. Actually this student lounge is your property in that it is the property of the Associated Students of Hartnell college.

Perhaps you would be interested in some facts and history of the student lounge. If so, here we go. The student lounge was first officially opened last year on Homecoming Day by George Jackson, who was at that time President of the student body. It was sponsored by the Alpha Gamma Sigma, furnished from the proceeds of the Student Union Fund. The student body installed a television set for the pleasure of the students, and lounge remained a favorite meeting place for students for the remainder of the year.

The student lounge can be acquired by clubs or organizations for night meetings. This may be done writing a letter addressed to the Student Commission. However, the letter must be handed in one week in advance of the desired meeting

Next time this column will be devoted to the discussion of the Spring Prom.

La Reata Supply Diminishing Fast

La Reata pledge card sales are steadily increasing and work on the yearbook is progressing. The pledge cards may be purchased in Room 9 at any time, or from any of the La Reata staff members, Emil Yappert, Julie Henderson. Willie Chinn, Pete Holm, Rudy Sun, Dorris Simon, Bill McCabe, and Betty Houston.

The purchase price of the year-book is only $2.50 for ASB members and $5.00 for non-card holders. Possession of a student body card does not automatically entitle the student to a yearbook. It merely absorbs half the price of the book when a pledge card is purchased.

X-Rays Here Monday

X rays of the chests of Hartnell College students and faculty mem-bers will be taken by the Monterey County Health Department all day next Monday, announced Mr. Jerry Girdner, registrar, yesterday. Students filled out cards for the X ray during registration for the spring semester.

All students with physical education classes Monday will have their X rays done during that hour. No undressing is required for the free tuberculosis check, which will be taken in a moble X-ray unit parked in the Men's Gym driveway. As preparation for this, Mr. Ed Adams has been showing the new T.B. film, "Inside Story," in his sygiene classes this week.

Wednesday, March 4, will be devoted to visiting Hartnell A and M, and exhibiting the outstanding features of the agricultural and mechanics campus of Hartnell. There is the possibility of a barbecue being held in the evening.

Thursday, March 5, activity will again be centered about the main campus on Homestead Avenue. On this night, the fine orchestra, choir, and band of Hartnell College will perform for the public.

Friday, March 6, will feature a talent assembly during the day, with talent to be presented on a radio show originating from the Hartnell Little Theatre that night. Friday will be set aside as blood donor day, at which time Hartnell will try to recruit more donors than M.P.C. can muster.

Saturday, March 7, will be the concluding day of Hartnell College Week. The only complete inform tion released concerned the semi-formal dance to be staged that night. Previous to the dance, Alumni Association will hold a gathering, from which everyone will go to the dance.

Friday, February 27, a souvenir edition of the Panther Sentinel will be published, and sent throughout the area. Every night of Hartnell College Week, films of the Jr. Rose Bowl, and Monterey football games will be shown. All other complete information will appear February 27 edition of the Panther Sentinel.

Soledad Foresters Offer New Hartnell Scholarship

Offered by the Foresters of America, Court No. 53, a one hundred dollar scholarship will go to a qualifying Hartnell student. The scholarship, an annual one, is to be used by a needy student from the Gonzales, Soledad, Greenfield, and King City area.

Mr. Attilio A. Binsacca, secretary of the organization, said, "while we are making it on the basis of financial assistance, the student should be selected because of scholarship ability if the two qualifications can be found in the same student."

He added that if several students meet the requirements, they feel that one from the Soledad area should be selected because of the greater membership locally.

The Soledad group was one of the first to respond to last year's campaign for scholarships being conducted by the Alumni Association. The Alumni Association is still welcoming more scholarships. Others are expected to come in this spring.

Scholarships benefit the student by aiding him in the purchase of books and supplies, pay student body fees, and other incidental expenses, stated President John B. Lemos.

Organizations supplying scholarships can specify the type of aid, the area in which students should live, or the field of study to be considered.

Frosh Are Selling Casaba Programs

Richard Eppley, freshman class president, announced Tuesday that although the freshman class has been selling programs at the last two home basketball games, there have been no profits made. The programs sell for five cents, the freshmen splitting 50 percent of the profit with the student body. Eppley anticipated clearing at least $25 at the end of the season, this modest sum to go toward fi- games.

Science Students Enjoy Field Trip

Studying sea-life and Monterey pine trees on the Monterey peninsula Wednesday, January 14, were Mr. James Wilson's zoology class and Mr. W. J. Robinson's botany class. The two classes left on a school bus at 1 o'clock from Hartnell and spent two hours on the rocky coast of Monterey bay, collecting marine plants and animals.

The Botany students toured the native surroundings of the Asilomar, studying the trees, grasses, and the microscopic world of algae and fungi. Most of the students collected species of these to bring home and study more thoroughly.

The students feel that the field trip was very worth while, for they saw at first hand what they had been studying all semester.

Ever see a spider make a flapjack? Well, just use universal wheelchairs and lavish in a glob of cuticura ointment. Alpha Gamma Sigma is working on two projects designed to make money for a queen's cup which the club plans to donate to the college at the end of the year. The name of each year's Home-coming queen will be engraved on the cup, thus having one such trophy serve for a number of years.

Two money-making projects, as discussed in a recent meeting, are to be a pie and cake sale, January 22; and a dance after the basket-ball game, February 21. The honor society participates in the Homecoming queen contest sponsorship and coronation annually.

The Panthers traveled to Menlo the night after the East Contra Costa game to play the Oaks in their tiny gym. Harts absorbed their third loss in league competition as they bowed, 86-49. Menlo took command early in the game, leading 21-7 at the end of the initial period and 40-26 at the half. To Hartne Five, 59-52

Wednesday night, January found the Hartnell basketball jinx over Monterey Peninsula College unbroken as the Panthers furned back their traditional rivals, 59-52 in the Monterey high school gym. The visiting aggregation was out in front when the initial stanza was completed by a score of 14-13, but MPC took the lead from Harts and led at the half, 29-27. Breaking fast as the final twenty began, the Panther minutes grabbed back the lead four minutes into the third period and never re-linquished it. This win gave the Panthers a conference record of two wins and three losses at press

Duke Snider replaced the bed-ridden Tony Teresa and turned in an admirable job, considering he played the greater portion of the contest with four fouls called against him. Dennis Welch was the only player to see action in addition to the starting five.

Bob Larson and Bill Smith, each having sixteen points, paced the game's scores. Jim Ledgerwood, Duke Snider, and Clive Bullian followed Larson and Smith in the Hartnell column with 13, 8, and 6 points respectively.

The referees had a field day in that they called a total of 49 fouls in the game, 21 against Hartnell and 28 against the home club.

SIDELINES

By CHAZ

Happenstance carried us into the chem lab, last Tuesday, as we were wandering around the hallowed halls of H.C. in desperate search of inspiration. You may wonder what business the chem lab has in Sidelines (by Chaz.). In a sense, we were reminded of athletics, as we sauntered by Bob Koda shaking some sort of tube with some sort of acid in it. The sense, just re-ferred to, was the sense of smell. For Bob's acid, combined with Troy George's sulfate and sodium chloride ions, united with whatever Mary Asano was concocting produced an odor peculiar, so we formerly thought, to only the men's gym; however, now we know and are happy to announce that these talented test tube twiddlers have succeeded in reproducing an amazingly accurate facsimile of the way outer garments, of a person engaged in strenuous activities for a prolonged period of time, effect the olfactory nerves. So it's boring. But it does have names in it! Anything including some student's names doesn't need to be interesting. Or didn't you know that?

Continuing our wanderings, we find ourselves in the men's gym watching an intramural basketball game. At least we thought it was basketball they were playing un-til Richard Adams was very impolitely tackled by Dick Herman, Following "Bird" to the floor was Henry Hibino as he was effectively blocked out of action by Chuck Dillard. We have two suggestions:
(1) inform the fellows that they are supposedly playing a round ball game now and (2) supply the referees with tennis shoes so that they can run a bit and be in position to exhale vioently into their whistles when they spot a flagrant rules violation, of which there are a great many.

We feel that the Salinas Junior Chamber of Commerce made the only possible choice in its selection of Dick Voris to receive an award signifying that he was the outstanding young men in the field of sports in the community last year. Congratulations, coach!

The following men have signed up with Coach Regli to play baseball this year: J. Brooks, A. Conner, C. Bullian, D. Welch, R. Adams, J. Balestrieri, D. Herman, I. Verret, T. Teresa, M. Boutte. L. Crocker, G. Moore, T. Grier, A. Aguirre, C. Dillard, T. deLorimer, C. Pomeroy, and T. Klingensmith.
